MIDWEST TRAVEL WRITERS ASSOCIATION

2008-2009 TRAVEL WRITER DIRECTORY AVAILABLE

The 2008-2009 membership directory of the Midwest Travel Writers Association (MTWA) is a valuable tourism resource that can put you in touch with writers, editors, and photographers who specialize in the travel industry, and who can help get your message out to readers of travel magazines, newspapers, and Internet sites across the country.

In the directory are the names, addresses, phone and fax numbers, email addresses, magazine, book and newspaper credits, and areas of writing specialization of about 100 writers, photographers, editors, and public relations professionals.

Started in 1951, the Midwest Travel Writers Association is the oldest association of professional travel writers in the United States. Though its members must reside in the 13-state Midwestern region, their writing, editing, photography, and PR skills reach far beyond these borders.

You can purchase the membership list in book form for $50, or purchase both the book and a CD-ROM for $65. The CD-ROM contains database information on each MTWA member and will run on both Windows or Macintosh based computers.

The MTWA membership directory is a cost-effective way of letting others know about your destination. To receive your copy of this valuable resource, send your check payable to Midwest Travel Writers Association (Federal Tax ID #38-2615317) and this order form to the address below.
